Clinical and Research Service

A NEW TREATMENT

FOR OCD WITH DEPRESSION

The UCLA Neuromodulation Clinic is pleased to offer Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation (TMS) for the treatment of Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder with Major Depressive Disorder. TMS is a safe, effective, and non-invasive treatment which has been FDA approved for the treatment of depression and OCD. Most insurance plans cover treatment when patients have both obsessive-compulsive disorder and depression.
